London Air-Mail Letter

The Admiralty Yacht Club For Foreign
Buyers: Death Of Capt. James Craig:
The Boat Race: A Pageant At Runnymede

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, March 20.
Mr. Baldwin's recent pronouncements on defence have, I hear, led to a change of plan on the part of the Right Wing group in the Conservative party.

At the Blackpool Conference last October a motion was passed unanimously recording grave anxiety concerning the provision made for Imperial defence.

Certain Right Wing elements who have hitherto been dissatisfied with the Government in this respect were for bringing the matter up again at the meeting of the Central Committee on March 28.

Lord Lloyd was to have moved the Blackpool resolution again on behalf of the South Kensington Association. Now, however, in view of recent Ministerial pronouncements, it has been decided to drop the matter.

THE ADMIRALTY YACHT

I gather that the fate of the Admiralty yacht Enchantress may be disclosed by Lord Stanley when he replies to a question on this subject in the House of Commons to-day.

Nowadays little use is made of this ship, which was launched 31 years ago. She displaces 3,470 tons, could originally steam at 15 knots, and is "armed" with four 3-pdr. saluting guns. Her appointments are comfortable but by no means sumptuous.

She conveys the Board of Admiralty on their periodical visits to the home ports, and accommodated them during the Royal inspection of the Fleet at Weymouth in 1932. But for the greater part of the year she is berthed at Portsmouth.

The present captain of the Enchantress is Cmdr. H. M. Robinson, D.S.O.

A LONDON CLUB FOR FOREIGN BUYERS

The foreign buyer is now offered a new inducement to come to this country, in addition to the goods which he can find here. While he is in London he is entitled to free membership of the new club which was opened some ten days ago on the fourth and fifth floors of British Industries House in Oxford Street, near Marble Arch. There he can find writing and reading rooms, and a restaurant which will supply him, if he wants it, with the food and drink of his own country. He will be able, when the intended arrangements of the club are completed, to meet manufacturers and take to them through the club's interpreters, to dictate letters in his own tongue to the club's stenographers, and to have them typed on a typewriter fitted with the keyboard of his own language. In fact, if he does not buy in London, the reason will be that London cannot supply the goods at his price. Everything else has been done to bring him to a malleable frame of mind.

A similar club has existed for some time in Chicago but this is believed to be the first of its kind in Europe.

The Buyers' Club is adjoined by a club for manufacturers, and the two are governed by what seems an admirably wholesome rule: Members of each club are welcome in the other one, but by invitation only, so that buyer who visits the Manufacturers' Club to interview a particular man, and falls by chance into the clutches of another, can retreat to his own sanctuary and summon his friend to call on him where they will not be interrupted. And if such prosperity returns to us that an English manufacturer finds himself beset by foreign buyers clamouring for orders he may save himself from embarrassment by the same amiable method.

FORMER M.P. DIES IN LONDON

Street
Captain Herbert James Craig, of Priorsterrace, Tynemouth, collapsed in Oxford-street yesterday, and on being taken to St. Mary's Hospital, was found to be dead.

He was 64 years of age. The police are satisfied that death was due to natural causes.

Captain Craig, who was an old Cambridge Rugby Blue, had come to town from Tynemouth to see the England v. Scotland match at Twickenham. He had intended to return home to-day.

The son of James Craig, M.P. for Newcastle-on-Tyne from 1886 to 1892, Captain Craig was himself a Liberal member for that constituency from 1906 to 1918. Educated at Rugby and Trinity College, Cambridge, he played in the University Rugby XV, and took an LL.B. in 1891. He was called to the Bar of the Inner Temple in 1892, and practised on the North-Eastern Circuit.

From 1920 to 1929 Captain Craig commanded the Tyne Division of the R.N.V.R. and was awarded the C.B.E.

NEW BRITISH AIR LINE

Opened At Liverpool
By Premier

London, April 7.
Although the weather was unfavourable for flying, and snow storms were reported in the mid-land areas, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, the Prime Minister, flew to Liverpool to open a new aerodrome near that city.

He was accompanied by the Air Minister, Lord Londonderry, and both Ministers were guests of the Lord Mayor at a civic luncheon.

The visit marked the inauguration of the new Liverpool-Glasgow-Belfast-Liverpool-Birmingham Air Line Service.

The projected extension of the scheme will link Liverpool, through Heybridge, a new airport in Essex, with the Continent.

The Prime Minister, in opening the aerodrome, said that airways were to be in future the pathway to prosperity, and that he believed the day was not far distant when people would be able to rise into the air from a space 30 feet square and land equally easily.

CLEARANCE OF SLUMS

Striking Figures
Revealed

London, April 8.
In the past fifteen years no fewer than 2,175,000 new houses have been erected in England, and of this number nearly 1,900,000 have been within the last ten years, 60 per cent. of them being erected by private enterprise.

Though the population of Britain has increased by only 2,000,000 since the war the new housing accommodation provided is sufficient for three times that number.

The greatest activity has taken place in the suburbs of London where nearly 500,000 new homes have been built in the last ten years.

This development is reflected in the official returns of Building Societies, which show that since 1922 the amount advanced on mortgages has substantially increased each year.

In the last seven years the annual total has nearly doubled, and it is predicted that the 1933 figure will reach £100,000,000 nearly of £10,000,000 above the record total of 1931.—British Wireless Service.

THE NEW SIKH TEMPLE

Opened By Hon. Mr. E.D.C. Wolfe

With a golden key which was presented to him by Mr. Badan Singh, the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe on Saturday officially opened the new Sikh Temple Hall at Gap Road.

There was an attendance of almost a thousand members of the Sikh community at the ceremony. The visitors were shown over the new building and after the temple hall had been declared open, the large gathering after removing their shoes were ushered into the hall, where, following a brief service, Mr. Madan Singh welcomed the guests and gave a history of the Sikh community in Hong Kong. He emphasized their indebtedness to the Government for the help and consideration which the community had received at all times.

Mr. Wolfe in a brief speech appeals to the Sikh community to stand together and to make co-operation and loyalty their watchword.

Addressing the gathering, Mr. Badan Singh said:

This is a great occasion in the history of this institution, and it will not be out of place to-day if I give a brief history of this Service Hall, or Gurdwara as it is called in our language, and of our community in this Colony. I have gathered the greater part of this information from Mr. Kehri Singh, who is just about to reach the fiftieth anniversary of his arrival in Hong Kong.

About 1865 the first batch of 50 Punjabi Sikhs and Mohammedans was taken on in the Hong Kong Police Force. These men proved to be excellent police officers and soon established for themselves a reputation for trustworthiness and devotion to duty.

It is more than likely that this fine new building would not yet have been built but for the fact that the finances of this institution were put on a sounder footing with the introduction of new rules in 1913 and a new system of accounts by Mr. Mahan Singh, who has been our Hon. Treasurer for so many years, and other worthy members who from time to time have taken keen interest in the management, such as Messrs. Mohinder Singh and Bishen Singh, whose absence to-day is greatly felt.

I should like to take this opportunity of expressing, on behalf of this institution and the Sikh Community in general, our sincere thanks for, and grateful appreciation of, the benevolent and generous manner in which the Government has met our needs, and we desire at the same time to express our gratitude to the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, and his predecessors in the post of Inspector General of Police, and to all other officers who have so graciously given us their assistance.

Former Governor Thanked

In 1900 the Sikh Community felt the need for a building to be used as a Service Hall, and also to provide temporary accommodation for visitors, travellers and new arrivals in the Colony. A Committee was formed, and the Government when approached very generously assisted the scheme by the grant of this site. The staunchest supporter of the Committee's application was the late Sir, Henry May, Captain Superintendent of Police, and afterwards Governor of Hong Kong.

The old Service Hall, which has now been replaced by this fine structure which is opened to-day, was extended from time to time as the Sikh Community increased, and it was realized that in time a rebuilding scheme on a larger scale would have to be undertaken. In 1906 the adjoining Garden Lot was added to our grounds, and in 1922 all the surrounding unbuilt land was applied for, as well as the site of the Government School. This application received the warm support of the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, and the Government—with the benevolent generosity which it has at all times shown to our Community—promised that none of this land would be alienated to other parties; we were not at the time in a position to build, immediately, but the Government's generous promise assured us that the land would be available when required. In 1931 we were able to put in hand the rebuilding of the Service Hall, and on our applying for the necessary extension of land—again with the kind support of the Hon. Mr. Wolfe—the additional area required was granted by the Government.

It is more than likely that this fine new building would not yet have been built but for the fact that the finances of this institution were put on a sounder footing with the introduction of new rules in 1913 and a new system of accounts by Mr. Mahan Singh, who has been our Hon. Treasurer for so many years, and other worthy members who from time to time have taken keen interest in the management, such as Messrs. Mohinder Singh and Bishen Singh, whose absence to-day is greatly felt.

I should like to take this opportunity of expressing, on behalf of this institution and the Sikh Community in general, our sincere thanks for, and grateful appreciation of, the benevolent and generous manner in which the Government has met our needs, and we desire at the same time to express our gratitude to the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, and his predecessors in the post of Inspector General of Police, and to all other officers who have so graciously given us their assistance.

I would like to take this opportunity of expressing, on behalf of this institution and the Sikh Community in general, our sincere thanks for, and grateful appreciation of, the benevolent and generous manner in which the Government has met our needs, and we desire at the same time to express our gratitude to the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, and his predecessors in the post of Inspector General of Police, and to all other officers who have so graciously given us their assistance.

A Special Appeal

I would like to take this opportunity of expressing, on behalf of this institution and the Sikh Community in general, our sincere thanks for, and grateful appreciation of, the benevolent and generous manner in which the Government has met our needs, and we desire at the same time to express our gratitude to the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe, and his predecessors in the post of Inspector General of Police, and to all other officers who have so graciously given us their assistance.

There is another appeal of a different nature which I should like to make to-day to our whole community. This institution is still in need of funds. Outstanding bills on the new structure amount to some $9,000. Money is also needed for overhauling that part of the old building which still remains, and under the conditions of the grant of the land we shall have to contribute $2,000 towards the cost of a retaining wall on the north side of our site. Further, we are required to rebuild the Crematorium. So it will be seen that this institution must continue for some time to look to our whole community for that generous financial support which it has received since the rebuilding scheme was instituted. The Committee feels that it can rely with confidence on this support.

In conclusion I should like to express once more our sincere thanks and appreciation to all the generous donors, the Government Officials, the officers commanding the Indian Military Units, their officers and men, and all our guests, for their presence here to-day, which has made this occasion a success. The Committee is also especially indebted to Col. Barker who has very kindly granted permission for the band of his regiment to attend at this function.

Mr. Wolfe said it gave him the

OLD FIELD CAPS

For Steelhelmets
Society

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Berlin, April 8.
The recent absorption of the former "Steelhelmets" Society in the Stormtroop Reserves takes visible form in the new regulations affecting the uniforms of the organization issued on Friday. The original field grey shirts of the old army henceforth is to be replaced by the famous brown-shirts with which a green tie will be worn in contrast to the brown tie of the regular stormtroops. The Steelhelmet troops will continue to wear the old field grey caps, jackets and breeches. The old insignia—helmet profile in silver—is permanently to disappear along with the former complicated designations in rank. The only title surviving in the reorganised society will be that of "commander," all others, regardless of administrative position, are to be addressed as plain "comrade." The old military salute is to be replaced by the Fascist full arm-swing and made obligatory in the presence of police, stormtroops, regular army and main uniformed organization of the Party.—Transocean Kuo Min.

greatest pleasure to be present at the inauguration ceremony of the new temple hall. The building reflected the greatest credit on all concerned in its creation.

He had heard a suggestion that before long a new temple might be built in Kowloon to be run by a separate management. While he felt certain that in course of time a new temple might be necessary, he hoped that the institution, when it comes into existence would be under the committee of the present Sikh temple.

He echoed Mr. Badan Singh's appeal to the younger members of the Sikh community to work together with the Committee and to make co-operation and loyalty their watchword.

After the opening ceremony tea was served in the new building. Amongst those present at the opening ceremony were the Hon. Mr. D. W. Trautman, Mr. J. W. Francis, Mr. W. R. Brown, Mr. O. G. Perdue and a number of ladies.

This pony it will be recalled had to abstain from the racing last Monday as doubts were expressed as to his soundness.

Other good gallops include those by Don, Solar Star, Racing Spirit, The Tiger and Zerb.

WORLD SLUMP IN SHIPPINGGermany Favours
Conference

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Hamburg, April 6.
Satisfaction is expressed by shipping circles in Germany about the United action taken in London by the Ministers of Denmark, Holland, Norway and Sweden at the instigation of their respective governments proposing that in view of the shrinkage in the volume of world trade, and consequent distress on the shipping business in all countries that the governments should abandon the policy of forcing unprofitable competition by granting State subsidies to shipping companies of their own nationals. Three four Governments offer to support Great Britain in any attempt to remedy the evil and proposed that an international shipping conference be called to discuss the matter.

German shipping circles point out that until the present day, German shippers had consistently refused to subsidize on principle. At the recent Baltic and International Maritime Conference, Germany was the only non-subsidized group present. The position of German shipping was particularly difficult because many competitor countries, by restoring the currency depreciation had taken an unfair advantage over Germany, while all attempts at voluntary agreement on a schedule of international rates thus far failed. If British acceptance of the proposal of the four Governments named, then in the opinion of German shippers the first important step will have

Fire

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Berlin, April 6.
The historic castle, Kranichfelden near Weimar, one of the chief architectural monuments by Thuringia built in the twelfth century, was razed to the ground by fire which broke out early on Friday morning, and whose origin is not yet known. One servant was gravely injured while assisting in fighting the conflagration and three firemen narrowly escaped from death when, though buried beneath the collapsing wall, they were hauled out in time. The castle, which is owned by the industrialist, Ramminger, contained many valuable art treasures.—Transocean Kuo Min.

HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS

Huddersfield Vanquished By The Arsenal

An important fixture in the Home Football programme on Saturday was the meeting of the two highly-placed teams in the First Division, Arsenal and Huddersfield. The Arsenal scored a decisive victory to regain the leadership with a number of points ahead of her rival. Tottenham and Derby County also played, the latter securing the points by an odd goal.

Grimsby advanced further in the Second Division leadership, while Preston also managed to get through. Norwich won in the Southern Section, but the Northern Section leaders, Chesterfield, suffered defeat.

Glasgow Rangers were again in winning vein, while Motherwell had to share the points on their home ground against Third Lanark.

'VARSITY CHESS MATCH

58th Contest Ends In A Draw

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, March 20. The fifty-eighth Varsity chess match was played at the City of London Chess Club, and resulted in a draw. Over the whole series Cambridge have now won 26 matches, Oxford 25, and seven have been drawn. Oxford began very well with two wins, and it seemed that the boat race might be avenged.

However, the American student, Mr. Zapolon, who is an experienced player, won his game for Cambridge in good style on Board No. 3. Immediately afterwards the excellent top-board for Oxford, Mr. Cross, succeeded in a pawn ending. The Dark Blue tragedy lay in the adjudication of two unfinished games, both of which went to Cambridge.

The score is given below—which is now showing at the Alhambra Theatre is a good crook drama based on a typical story although very fantastic, it is plausibly told in presentable

"Broadway" settings and is excellently acted by Constance Cummings, Russ Columbo, Paul Kelly and Gregory Ratoff, and a cast of quite remarkable all round competence.The story as usual deals with a "Racket" this time "poultry protection" and a racketeer who falls for a girl of his bygone school days.The usual story of how he puts her on the "lights" but fails to attract her, is cleverly told throughout, while action is plentifully provided by a rival "poultry protector."The sketches and revues which appear are novel to say the least while the songs rendered by Russ Columbo and Miss Cummings are delightful.There is no fault to be found with most of the acting, although one will be inclined to think that Paul Kelly does not fit in with an ideal conception of the "racket-teer."Comedy is cleverly interwoven into the story and the sob-stuff at the end of the film is not overdone. The film is recommended to those in search of something novel in the manner of "Gangdom."

the best seen. It is not worth the screen, Marie Dressler and Lionel Barrymore bring comedy, heart interest and gripping drama to their fans in an inimitable blend in "Her Sweetheart" (Christopher Bean) showing from Wednesday at the Queen's This is Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's much discussed filmization of the stage success,

"The Late Christopher Bean."The two beloved figures who received Academy awards together provide vivid personalities in a vigorous story which is replete with laughs as well as dramatic inter-est. As Abby, the faithful old servant who finds herself suddenly in possession of a priceless painting and consequently becomes the centre of intrigue and plotting, Miss Dressler gives another of her forceful and intensely human portrayals.
Barrymore as the kindly old Dr.
Haggett who becomes obsessed at the thought of riches almost in his grasp, gives an equally brilliant performance.The story deals with the family of a country doctor, who in the past had befriended an artist long since dead. The paintings of this artist are discovered to be worth a fortune. The old doctor, under the lash of avarice, seeks to steal
the portrait of the servant, Abby, thus uncovering a romance of the past and participating a striking denouement. Various characters such as the innocent young lovers, the scheming wife, the jealous daughter, the suave art dealer, interesting touches into the absorbing drama.THE EAGLE AND
THE HAWK

At Lee Theatre

Dramatic, thrilling, exciting, romantic, humorous, poignant!
These are strong descriptors, but they hardly suffice for the Paramount film which commenced showing yesterday at the Lee Theatre. "The Eagle and the Hawk" is its name. It's decidedly a superior picture which rates its superior cast—Fredric March, Cary
Grant, Carole Lombard and Jack Oakie. The spectacular air sequences of "The Eagle and the Hawk" are in every way as effective as those sensational scenes in "Wing" and "Hell's Angels." And the story of the film is undoubtedly more dramatic, not only does it"GOOD TIME CHARLIE"

With Stan And Oliver

For the first time in his career
since he attained stardom, Charley Chase, popular Hal Roach comedian, is appearing in the cast of a picture other than his own.
Reading the script of "Sons of the Desert," the new Laurel and Hardy full-length feature comedy, one day recently, Chase was intrigued by a "good time Charlie" part in the story and he immediately sought out Director William Selter and suggested that he be given the role.When Selter recovered from the shock of a star offering to appear in support of others, he immediately secured Charlie's signature on the dotted line of a contract and then asked the actor to explain himself."Why, there's no catch to it," explain Chase. "I'm delighted at the opportunity to work with Stan and Oliver and the part, as I see it, is made to order for me."Chase, who has a large fan following of his own, has been a Hal Roach M-G-M stellar comedian for many years and has appeared in scores of fun films under this banner. He and Laurel and Hardy have been warm friends since they first met on the Roach "lot" and each is an admirer of the other's peculiar comedy talents. There has never been any professional jealousy among the three funsters and on many occasions, they have exchanged ideas for their respective comedy offerings.MAJESTIC

A REAL SCREEN NOVELTY!A truly great story of the savage Saki tribe of pearl divers of Malaysia. Played against the menacing background of shark-infested pools and lurking jungle periltell of the tragedy and romance and glamour in the lives of these valiant war airmen, but it digs deeply beneath the surface and reveals their innermost thoughts, their reactions to their dangerously adventurous existences.Fredric March as "The Eagle," a valiant and celebrated flyer who hates to kill, gives another of those portrayals that helped to bring him
the title of filmland's best actor.
And an inspired performance is contributed by handsome Cary Grant as "The Hawk," vicious and ruthless aeroplane machine-gunner.
Carole Lombard continues to be one of the screen's most effective love interests and Jack Oakie has a new set of wisecracks which brought continuous laughter.The film has a fast-moving tempo and proceeds to its climax with forceful and dramatic direct-series of scenes which drew audible laudatory comments from yesteran excellent cast, and directed to perfection by Stuart Walker.DEMAND FOR TREE

Canton, April 7.

In view of great demand for tree shoots during this time of promotion of forestry, the Agriculture and Forestry Bureau of the Provincial Department of Reconstruction is planning to construct a large tree shoot planting station of 40 acres of land at least. It is understood that when this planting station is completed tree shoots will probably be sufficient to meet the demand of various counties.

cast. Others seen in the production are Russell Simpson, Ronnie

An adjudication order was made against the Mow Sang Tong medicine firm, of 16, Bonham Strand West by the Chief Justice, Mr. A. D. MacGregor at the Bankruptcy Court on Saturday morning.

M. J. J. Hayden, the Official Receiver, opposed the appointment of the trustee, chosen by a majority at a meeting of the creditors, on the ground that he was a brother-in-law to the sole proprietor of the firm, Ching Yat-ting. He also applied for an adjudication order. Mr. Losby, on behalf of the creditors, supported the application.

The order was made by His Lordship, who also re-appointed the trustee and a committee of inspection.

Ching Yat-ting on being examined by Mr. Hayden stated that he came to Hong Kong 40 years ago, and that on leaving school, he joined the Mow Sang-tong business, which was started by his father.

Thirty years ago his father made him a gift of the business which was then worth $100,000.

Heavy Losses

He further stated that during the first 30 years of his proprietorship, the business had paid a small profit, but in 1930 it started to lose heavily, and in 1931 and 1932 his losses amounted to $150,000.

He continued to run the business in the hope that trade would improve, and relatives, who realised his position, lent him money with which to carry on. In 1933 he lost a further $20,000, and, having abandoned all hope of recovery, he called a meeting of his creditors.

Ching stated that he was a married man with 13 children and a concubine. His family was now dependent on relatives, and he had no property or money.

Mr. Hayden then concluded his cross-examination and the hearing was adjourned until next court.

DOG BEATEN TO DEATHYoung Gardener Charged

When charged before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at Central Magistracy on Saturday with maliciously killing a dog, Lam Chin, a vegetable gardener, pleaded that the dog had killed a chicken and that he was afraid it would turn on him.

Inspector Rodger, who prosecuted, said that the former owner of the dog, was Mrs. Morley, of 13 Dragon Terrace, Bay View, who gave the animal to the defendant after it had bitten her child. The defendant, it was alleged, tied the dog up and beat it to death with a bamboo pole.

His worship remanded the defendant on bail of $50 and asked if eye-witness of the incident could be obtained. He considered that the dog should have been sent to the Dog's Home in the first place when it bit the child.

THEFT OF SOCKSChinese Sent To Gaol

Before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday morning, a Chinese named Chan Chee, aged 29 years, described as unemployed, was charged with the theft of a pair of socks, which belonged to the Man Kwong Foreign Goods Shop, No. 91, Tai Lam Street, Sham-shui-po.

Yau Chan, a Chinese detective, in prosecuting, told the Court that the defendant was seen entering the above mentioned shop, and under the pretence of being a customer, he stole a pair of socks from the side of the counter and hid them under his coat, and walked out of the door. He then immediately approached the defendant and had him arrested.

The defendant pleaded guilty and a sentence of six weeks hard labour was imposed.

POSSESSION OF LOTTERY TICKETS

Found in unlawful possession of 135 po pu lottery tickets, a young Chinese named Chan Hoo, a tenant in Hollywood Road, appeared before Mr. Macfadyen at the Central Police Court on Saturday morning and was fined $60 or six weeks hard labour.

It was stated by a Chinese detective that the defendant was stopped and searched in Hollywood last Friday night, and the tickets were found in his pockets.

The tickets were ordered to be destroyed.

LOTTERY TICKETS

A fine of $80 was imposed by Mr. Q.A.A. Macfadyen at Central Magistracy on Saturday on Helen Chan, aged 47, a widow who was charged with the possession of 28 Macao lottery tickets. Detective Sergeant Helmsley informed his Worship that it had come to the notice of the police that quite a number of Macao lottery tickets had been brought to Hong Kong. The defendant who admitted that she was going to sell tickets, also had several Irish Sweepstake tickets in her possession.

Round the Court

BANISHEE SENTENCED

Described as a dangerous criminal and a life banishee from Singapore, Hui Ah Sze was sentenced to three months' hard labour by Mr. Macfadyen at Central Magistracy on Saturday for the theft of a fountain-pen from Tai Mol, a shop foki, in Des Voeux Road Central.

HOUSE OF ILL FAMEChinese Keepers Heavily Fined

As a result of Police raids on last Friday night, two Chinese named Chung Sap and Wong Wah, both described as tenants, appeared before Mr. Hamilton at the Central Magistracy on Saturday morning, charged with keeping slybrothels at No. 17, Lugard Road and No. 28, Lockhart Road, Wanchai.

The Police said that during the raids, several women were found in the premises.

Both defendants pleaded guilty. The first defendant Chung Sap, having a previous conviction, was fined $500 or six months' hard labour, and the second $150 or three months'.

KOWLOON SILK STOREFirst Public Examination

Mr. J. J. Hayden who has just been appointed official Receiver, conducted the first public examination of the proprietors of the Kowloon Silk Store, in liquidation, before the Chief Justice, Mr. A. D. MacGregor at the Bankruptcy Court on Saturday morning.

The proprietor of the Store Mr. Verhonal was stated to have handed the business over to his wife Wong Yung, and Nellie Wong, his concubine four or five years ago, and in February, 1933, he absconded to Japan.

Wong Yung, examined by Mr. Hayden, stated that she knew very little about the business. Four or five years ago her husband had transferred it to her in consideration of a payment of $5,000 cash and a quantity of jewellery, the value of which she did not know.

In February, 1933, her husband was examined by a doctor, and ordered to go to Japan for his health's sake, and since then she had neither seen nor heard of him. She knew nothing of a debt of $100,000 owing by her husband to the French Mission, and stated that she was just a figurehead at the shop, and that it was run by her manager Mr. Tarachand, who has since absconded.

Since the business had closed, Wong Yung stated, she had been living on the proceeds from the sale of her furniture, and now there was very little left for herself and her six children.

Nellie Wong, questioned by Mr. Hayden, stated that she was a concubine of Mr. Verhonal, and that she went to Japan with him in 1933. In February of this year, hearing from a friend that the business was in a bad way, she returned to Hong Kong to make investigations.

She had been living with Mr. Verhonal for six or seven years, and in 1931 had invested $5,000 in the business. Witness admitted that she was living on proceeds from the sale of personal property. Mr. Hayden then brought his examination to a close.

Hong Kong?

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Swatow, April 2.
The local Public Safety Bureau is now compiling statistics in connection with the prison work of last year. So far this department is satisfied that the number of cases before the Bureau has been greatly reduced—thanks to the able administration of the previous Chief of Police, Mr. Liu. The question of providing an up to date police headquarters is engaging the serious attention of the authorities. Much public money has previously been collected from theatrical performances, shows, etc., and it is hoped that before long the scheme will have materialised.

In the inland towns the people are complaining against the increase of the amusement tax, and they threaten to take drastic steps if the movement is not dropped. In Swatow alone we are paying as much as 15 per cent. tax for whatever show we see, and we lay the blame to the authorities for farming out this kind of tax. Government servants and the military are not affected, as they do not have to pay the tax. It is the public who suffer.

Kuomintang organs, municipal offices and schools were closed on March 29, it being the commemoration day of the 72 heroes, who gave their lives on March 29, 1911. In order that China might have a democratic and able government. No memorial services were held. National flags were flown everywhere at half mast, and the day passed off quietly.

The question of the Swatow Canton railway has again been discussed and taken up recently by those responsible for this important project.

One Mr. Lung, the local delegate, has been despatched to Canton to interview Mr. Lin Yun Koy, the Chairman of the Government there. It is learned from reliable sources that Mr. Lin will soon come to Swatow for conference. It is the expressed desire of Mr. Lung to raise a $15,000,000 loan from Hong Kong to finance the project. On the other hand, the surveying instruments have either been lost or loaned to some person or persons, so there is the additional expense of buying new instruments if the work is to be carried on.

It is revealed that most of the bankruptcies occurring recently have been due to the prolonged anti-Japanese boycott, in consequence of which so much money has been tied up. The boycott is still on, but the more daring continue to smuggle in Japanese goods, they giving a decent margin of profit. On the whole, the boycott is not so intensified now. Japanese sailors can stroll ashore without fear of molestation by hostile crowds.

A batch of military stationed at Wong Kong has been touring Swatow. Amoy, Chaoshow, etc., engaging the soldiers wherever they went in different kinds of games. The trip was a most successful one thanks to the efforts of the coach, a Straits born man.

We had a wet Easter, and were disappointed the Hong Kong team could not come up for some reason or other. However, a few gentlemen made the trip for the Mosonic installation. The Easter Dance was not held and with it had gone much of the expected hilarity.

BRIGADE*Chairman Reviews 18 Years Of Good Work

A large and distinguished gathering was present at the annual Ball of the St. John Ambulance Brigade which was held at the Roof Garden of the Hong Kong Hotel on Saturday night.

Eulogistic references to the Brigade were made by Sir William Shenton, the President and Dr. Li Shui Fan the Chairman who gave a comprehensive review of the activities of the Brigade since its inception in 1916.

A special tribute was also paid to Mrs. Langley, the secretary.

Among the large gathering were Sir William Shenton, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. A. Moore, Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Valentine, Dr. Li Shui Fan, Dr. Ma Luk, Dr. Arthur Woo Dr. T. C. Yip, and Dr. W. K. Wong.

Songs by Miss Elvie Yuen and Mr. Li Chor Chi, accompanied by Mr. J. G. Charlton, provided a pleasing touch of variety to the evening's programme.

Chairman's Speech
The Chairman, Dr. Li Shui Fan said:

In a function of this nature, it is customary that some one should announce the objects and reasons of such a convivial gathering. With this as my excuse, you will bear with me if I ask you to be good enough to give your feet and the band a rest, so that I may be able to say a few words in reference to the object of the Ball, and the work of the Hong Kong Branch of St. John Ambulance Association and Brigade.

I do not quite know why I am asked to take the chair this evening, I presume it is because I am an old and rusty member of the Brigade who enlisted as long ago as 1916, the year of the local Brigade's inception. But as an old officer, looking back to what the Brigade was 18 years ago, I am proud to tell you that it has had a wonderful beginning under that veteran Leader, Commissioner Ralphs, and that since then it has had a most successful career. The Brigade has grown from a first batch of 100 men; to 600 strong today, while the nurses V.A.D. force has increased from 12 in 1916 to 140 this year.

A Unique Feature.
There is one unique feature concerning members of the Brigade, which I should like to mention, that is, although the enlistment is entirely voluntary, a considerable number of members have stuck steadfastly to the Service for many years. In fact, 20 members have qualified by examination for the ten years' Long Service Medal, and two have qualified for the Bar, which requires 15 years of continuous service and efficiency.

You will see from your souvenir programme that in addition to the First Aid work, the Brigade has conducted a number of charity clinics in the New Territories. I would like to tell you in round figures some of the recent cases. In maternity cases the number attended by the Brigade was nearly 100 per month. In the nine cases in the New Territories giving free treatment, to the injured and the sick-poor, over 10,000 cases were treated monthly. Last year, the Brigade vaccinated 430,000 cases in the Colony free of charge, 200 accident cases were attended to, and the Brigade's ambulances have carried over 2,000 cases.

The Ball
Now, concerning the object of this Ball, I need hardly tell you that it is organised for financial reasons. You may be surprised to know that the Brigade, unlike other fortunate Philanthropic institutions in the Colony, does not enjoy any subsidy, endowment or the privilege of a lottery. Our only source of support is, therefore, direct from the public. Nevertheless, you will observe this evening, that there is no selling or auctioning of articles, and there are no subscription books passed, but if you and your friends should sympathise with our work, I am sure the Honorary Treasurer, Commissioner Morris would be glad to know.

In conclusion, I should like to impart to you, that the Order of St. John, stands for service to humanity particularly to the injured and the sick-poor. Our motto, 'to save life to alleviate suffering, irrespective of creed, nationality or race.'

Mrs. Langley Thanked
Before I finish, I wish to convey our hearty thanks on behalf of the Brigade to, first of all, the Ball committee for their untiring work, especially the Hon Secretary, Mrs. Langley; secondly, the Wing On Company, Sincere's Company, and The Sun Company for their liberal donation of toys and decorations as well as for the disposal of tickets; thirdly the various entertainers of the evening for their most delightful musical items; and last, but not the least, I wish to thank you all ladies and gentlemen for your support and in making this function such an unequalled success.THE LATE MR.
MANUK*Memorial Service By Theosophists

Saturday being the second anniversary of the death of Mr. M. Manuk, Founder-president of the Manuk Lodge of the Theosophical Society, a memorial service in his honour, conducted by Mr. J. Russell was held at the Society's Rooms at 17, Queen's Road Central.

Many friends of the late Mr. Manuk were present, including his sister, Miss Manuk, Mr. W. Fei show and Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Gregory.

After a short meditation Mr. Russell, addressing the meeting he said that the friends of Mr. Manuk must not despair because he had "gone over to the other side," for, although he was not with the Lodge physically, he was in constant touch with them, and that his presence could be felt whenever they gathered together. Mr. Russell said that the loss of their brother meant a great deal to the Lodge, as could be gathered from seeing the beautiful floral tributes which had been sent.

Mr. Russell then paid a tribute to the good work done by Mr. Manuk in connection with the Lodge, and in other directions in the Colony. He said that those who knew him best had loved him most. No memorial had been set up to him, for, at his own desire, his remains had been cremated and cast into the sea. There was, however, a living memorial to him in the work he had done, and which was now being continued. Those who knew him would remember how, when worn down with work in trying to heal a sick member of the Lodge, he contracted a fatal disease. In conclusion, Mr. Russell asked all the members to bear in mind Mr. Manuk's last instructions to them, "Always to love each other, always to be happy with each other, and always to strive and work together."

Mr. W. Felslow, Vice-President of the Lodge, called back to mind the brilliant and charming personality of Mr. Manuk. He said it was quite impossible to know him without making friends with him, and quite impossible to make friends with him without loving him. He asked the members of the Society always to try to emulate his love to everyone they might meet.

A few moments of meditation were spent in honour of Brother Talati, of the Manuk Lodge, who died recently.

LAW AND COMMERCE DINNER

Eloquent Address By His Honour The Chief Justice

At the annual dinner of the Law and Commerce Society of the Hongkong University, held on Saturday night at Exchange Restaurant, His Honour the Chief Justice, Mr. A. D. A. MacGregor, in the course of an eloquent speech drew attention to the importance of law in commerce and said that he considered a knowledge of jurisprudence essential for those of the University students who intended to go into business.

Mr. F. S. Cassidy in the course of a brief address touched upon the high tariffs existing in South China to-day. Professor Robertson, President of the Society and Mr. Kwik Khik Tjhiang (Chairman) were the other speakers.

Chairman's Speech

Among the large gathering present were His Honour Mr. Justice MacGregor, Sir William Hornell, Mr. Justice Lindell, the Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster, Professor and Mrs. R. K. M. Simpson, the Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall, Mr. M. K. Lo, Mr. R. W. L. Handyside, Mr. P. S. Cassidy, Professor and Mrs. W. F. Fald, Professor and Mrs. J. L. Shellshear, Mr. J. Fenton, Professor and Mrs. L. Forster, Professor and Mrs. R. A. Hill, Mr. R. C. Lim, Mr. Kwik Khik Tjhiang and Mr. Li Ka Tai.

Mr. Kwik Khik Tjhiang, chairman of the Society, proposing the toast of the guests said: "It is the custom for the student chairman of the Law and Commerce Society to propose the toast of 'Our Guests' at this annual dinner. In the past few years it has been for me to listen to the friends who have proposed this toast, and while I have always been impressed by the really cordial way in which they voiced their welcome, I have also been struck by the similarity of their speeches from year to year. (Laughter)."

"It is gratifying to us that so many prominent guests have accepted our invitation to be present this evening. Most of them, I am glad to say are old and stalwart friends of the Society. The Vice-Chancellor, Sir William Hornell, could not be with us last year, and if he had taken the advice of his doctor he would probably not be with us tonight. That alone is proof enough how much he has the welfare of this Society at heart, and we can only hope that with the long vacation not far distant he will be able to take a short rest and regain his usual vigour."

"We are indeed honoured by the presence of the Colony's new Chief Justice, Mr. Justice MacGregor. I understand that the Chief Justice is a remarkably able member of the Bench, and has already formed a wide circle of friends in Hong Kong. Any man in a position such as his must inevitably make a considerable sacrifice in coming to address us, and we are deeply grateful to him. We sincerely hope, and believe, that he will attend our future annual functions, and I will go so far as to say that he may consider he has a standing invitation to do so."

"Mr. Cassidy is a very old friend, and a representative of commerce. We are also honoured by the presence of Mr. Justice Lindell and Mr. M. K. Lo, both of whom are honorary members of the Society and regular visitors to our board. The Hon. Dr. Kotewall is our board member, and needs no introduction to the student body of the University, with whom he has been in close contact for many years. May I also welcome two well-known guests, the Attorney-General the Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster, K.C., who is also an honorary member of the Society and was a member of the University Council when the University was founded 22 years ago, and Mr. F. H. Lobb, one of the Colony's best known and most respected solicitors."

"Meanwhile I must proffer a vote of thanks to all the ladies and gentlemen who have kindly accepted our invitations. To the ladies, especially, we are greatly indebted for a party without the presence of the ladies can never be perfect."

"I shall now ask the members of the Society to join me in drinking to the health of our guests coupled with the name of Mr. Justice MacGregor."

LAW AND COMMERCE

Replying on behalf of the guests, His Honour the Chief Justice, Mr. A. D. A. MacGregor said he was particularly happy of the opportunity to do so, not only because it was his first chance to explain to a representative Hongkong gathering what he felt about Hongkong but because that chance came at a society with the perfectly enhancing title of "Law and Commerce Society." To a person like himself who had devoted most of his life to the study and practice of law, "Law and Commerce" was the happiest of conjunction, because Law could not exist without Commerce, and Commerce could not be without Law. He was pecularly happy when he received and read, with considerable interest, the syllabus of the University, to see that Law was an essential part of the curriculum of most of the students. He was glad to see that the students started with jurisprudence because in his opinion that was the greatest of all subjects not only for those who were going to study law and who were going to follow the footsteps of men like Mr. R. C. H. Lim and Mr. Hin Shing Lo and many others whom he hoped to welcome to the bar or as solicitors of the Court, but also to those who were going into a business career. He regarded jurisprudence, the study of the principles of the law, as a matter of utmost and most fundamental importance.

He was also glad to observe that among other subjects in the curriculum were Logic and Psychology, and very rightly so, because unless a man could think clear and lucid lines, then his life's time was wasted. For men of action, clear thinking was a first essential and with clear thinking he would add lucid expression, and where could one get that better than by a study of law.

A state without law was not a state but was barbarism and the first emergence from barbarism was the establishment of a code or a system of law. He had already pleaded guilty to a great love for the law and it was something he was very proud of. There were one or two aspects of the great code of law that were regarded as the British Code, which he thought worthy of mention. He would ask the gathering the question: "What is it that links up the British Empire?" Most of them would say that it was loyalty to the Sovereign. To-day however, the Dominions were legislating for themselves and were not controlled by Great Britain.

He had had the honour of serving in various parts of the world, among primitive Africans in the West Coast of Africa and in the West Indies where there were Frenchmen, Spaniards, Indians, Chinese and where an aboriginal population like "Loyalty to the Sovereign" meant nothing at all, but what mattered everything in the world to everyone of them was a translation of that abstract in terms to practical fact and that fact was the rule of British law and the administration of that law through an independent judiciary in every part of the world.

Not Dull Subject.

He went on to say that one of the most wonderful thing in the British Empire was the Privy Council. There sat the men who embodied the realisation of that tremendous British conception of free and independent justice and of freedom.

With regard to commerce, his Honour said, amidst laughter, that he had served for four years as one of the directors of a bank, which was still prospering, and three Chamber of Commercials had been misguided enough to elect him a member, a privilege of which he was very proud. He knew very little about the "A.B.C." of commerce, but he would say that commerce without law did not exist. If an Island sprang up in the Universe to-morrow, one would not at once open a branch there because one did not know whether goods would be paid for in cowries or in gold or whether the payment would be decapitation of the trader! There must be civilisation before there could be clean, honest, commerce. Bringing a few beads to a country and carrying away ivory tusks, was not to-day considered commerce.

Continuing, the Chief Justice said that law was no longer the dull subject it used to be because to-day it is being made interesting, amusing, and at times even dramatic. If he might give one instance, in the admirable ordinances prepared by his friend the Hon. the Attorney General, the great legal initiative was no longer split, for he observed the use of the phrase "An ordinance to amend further, etc." (Laughter). Concluding, His Honour expressed his gratitude to the Society for

INDUCTION OF REV. J.R. HIGGS

New Vicar Of St. Andrew's Church

There was a very full congregation at St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon yesterday morning when the Rev. James Robert Higgs, B.A., was instituted vicar of that Church by the Rt. Rev. Ronald Hall, Bishop of Victoria.

After the morning prayer, the ceremony of induction took place, the new Vicar being presented by the Very Reverend Dean Alfred Swann to the Bishop who duly appointed him to the Vicarage of the Church.

An address of welcome was presented by the Vicar of the Chinese Church of All Saints, Kowloon, to Rev. Higgs, the presentation being in Chinese, the words used translated, being: "In the name of the Chinese Church we welcome you, brother, into the fellowship of the Church of Christ in Kowloon, and pray that God will bless our work together, for the coming of His Kingdom in the hearts of men and in the common life of this place."

Rev. Higgs: I thank you, brother, for your welcome and your prayers; and I pray for God's blessing upon your work and upon all the people of China.

Bishops Welcome

In the sermon which followed the Bishop on behalf of the Diocese and the Congregation extended a warm welcome, not only to the new Vicar but also to Mrs. Higgs, who he said, was prepared to take her share of the work. She would try and make the Sunday School work even better than it is at present.

More and more people were to-day looking to the Church for guidance and help and it was a terrible thing in these days to be ordained a Minister of God. He appealed to the Congregation and to each of them to do his or her bit in the service of God.

inviting him to be present and for asking him to spend and on behalf of the guests he thanked the Society for their hospitality. He expressed the hope that the Society would prosper from year to year. (Applause).

Mr. F. S. Cassidy.

In proposing that toast of "The Society" Mr. Cassidy said:

When you did me the honour of electing me one of your Vice-presidents I assumed that the office was purely honorary. I find now that you expect me to play my part and although I feel rather diffident about assuming the role of "Commerce" there is some compensation in being allotted a toast which I can propose with a hearty good-will.

I take it that before long many of you will be starting on a commercial career and will be finding it no easy matter to put your book learning into practice. You will be entering a field which at present seems grossly overcrowded but over those who are already there. But, don't imagine that your academic knowledge is all that is required. You want a good deal more than that. I hope your three or four years at the University has helped to develop your character as well as your mind. Courage is a tremendous asset. So is enterprise and in this part of the world there seems ample scope for enterprise. Don't be discouraged by people who talk about the good old days. So far as my reading of history goes and from my experience of over twenty years in business I have come to the conclusion that the good old days are only good in retrospect. At the time they were pretty gloomy.

Look around you to-day and see what a wonderful place Hongkong is. It is no mean city and yet there have not been many years in its brief history when trade wasn't going to the dogs. At the moment the whole commercial machinery of the colony is out of gear, through forces over which we have no control whatsoever. Some of us may wonder if we are ever going to get the machine to function again. I personally think we shall, because I am convinced that the inevitable commercial development of South China is to a great extent dependent upon the facilities and organization afforded by this colony. That commercial development of South China is and will continue to be, in my opinion, the work of enterprising and energetic young men. That, gentlemen, is where you come in and I am sure that you can count upon the support of the foreign business community here.

Customs Tariffs.

It seems to me that you ought to aim far higher than a commission agent's business in Hongkong. There have been far too many concerns of that type started in recent years and they lead nowhere. Your part is surely that of developing the natural resources

APOSTOLIC DELEGATE TO CHINA WELCOMED

His Grace, Archbishop M. Zanin

His Grace, Archbishop M. Zanin, Apostolic Delegate to China who is now in the Colony en route to Peking, was given a very warm welcome on Saturday night, when he was the guest of honour at a dinner given by the Chinese Catholic Young Men's Society, at their Club rooms, 15 Caine Road.

Among the many distinguished guests present at the function were the Rt. Rev. Henry Valtorta, Bishop of Lerici and Vicar Apostolic of Hong Kong, the Rt. Rev. Bishop Canale, Vicar Apostolic of Shiu Chan, Father A. Rignani, Rector of St. Joseph's Church, Rev. Brother Matthias, Director of St. Joseph's College, Mr. H. Dixon, President of the Cathedral Section of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Mr. A.J.C. da Rocha, Secretary of the Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament, Mr. L. A. Barton, Treasurer of the Society, Mr. A. Alvarez, Mr. Simon Tze-yau, President of the Society, Mr. Robert Choa and Mr. A. Tse.

Others present included members of the Catholic Clergy who had come from outports and out-districts to attend the function.

A member of the clergy addressing His Grace, the Archbishop, said:

Your Excellency, Reverend Father, Gentlemen:

It is my great pleasure to welcome here your Excellency, the Apostolic Delegate to China, because I feel that the ceremony of this evening is not merely an official gathering, but it is full of meaning and significance.

When we welcome here your Excellency, we intend to welcome among us the Holy Father Himself, because it is He who has sent you, because you are His direct representative.

Your Excellency, I speak on behalf of the Chinese Catholic Young Men's Society as well as on behalf of the other units of Catholic Action which are now spread in several parishes of this Colony of ours and who are represented tonight by their presidents, and in their name I beg to convey to your Excellency our feelings of immense joy and our sincere thanks for having accorded to us the honour of your presence.

Part Of Great Family

Your Excellency, we feel proud of this honour, but we feel also immensely glad because we know that through your presence among us this evening the bond which unites us to Rome, to the Holy Father is tightened, and we feel to be closer to Him, we feel to be more the children of the Pope and of the Catholic Church. When we welcome your Excellency, we feel better than ever that we are not in Hongkong a small group of Catholics almost insignificant in the vast ocean of heathendom which surrounds us, but we actually are a part of the great family of the Catholic Church, this wonderful organization, which though spread all over the world is still of one mind and spirit, which is numerically the greatest religious family of the world. By your presence we feel united closer to the Papacy which is our dearest glory, the greatest glory of our Faith, to the Holy Father of whom we feel to be devoted children.

of the neighbouring provinces, of reviving the declining fortunes of their great export trade and of building up an efficient system of trading in place of the existing outworn system. And lastly when some of you gentlemen rise to high political office in your native province I hope you will bear in mind the teaching of the economists of earlier days and will use your influence in favour of moderating the customs tariffs which are certainly hampering if not strangling the trade of China. In this present world-wide craze for national self-sufficiency and economic isolation lies danger. Your training in economics has no doubt shown you the folly of such a policy and I hope that you will help to steer your country into the zone of low tariff nations, for that seems to me to be the only way by which the world can return to sanity.

Prof. Robertson.

Professor Robertson replying on behalf of the Society said that they felt grateful to Mr. Cassidy for the words of encouragement and warning to members which Mr. Cassidy had voiced. He was also happy in the fact that this was the first occasion in which his honour the Chief Justice had spoken in public. He doubted whether he had ever heard the subject of law so admirably expounded by Mr. MacGregor. Professor Robertson concluded by expressing the hope that some of the members of the gathering would favour the Society with their presence from time to time during the year.

THE BRANDY WITH A PEDIGREE

A glowing tribute to the work done by Mrs. R. Baker, the wife of the former manager of the Kowloon-Canton Railway, who is leaving the Colony shortly, was paid by Mr. J. Russell when he presided at a Committee meeting of the Hongkong Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals on Thursday.

Mr. Russell said that Mrs. Baker's approaching departure from the Colony was deeply regretted and hoped that she would enjoy a pleasant journey home, and would be spared many years to continue the valuable work she is doing in the interests of Animals.

The Committee further considered the encouraging letters received from Religious bodies in the Colony, who have expressed the desire to co-operate in the Society's activities. This was considered to be of inestimable value to the Society in their work.

Humane Killers

The question of the use of humane killers in the slaughter houses was discussed, and it was mentioned that there was every possibility of their introduction at an early date.

CHINA, JAPAN AND THE FILIPINOS

There is much discussion these days in the American press of the Philippine Archipelago, which occupies a strategic point in its relationship to the southern and eastern flanks of Japan and China as Manchuria is to the north and west. From Japan's standpoint, the question of her political and economic influence over the territory has almost as much significance as that of the Manchurian situation. Mr. Upton Close, one of our valued contributors on the Far Eastern Problem, has recently pointed out in the "Literary Digest" that "Filipinos look at the issue fatalistically. America, they are sure, is beating a retreat." And Upton Close is also of the opinion that the Filipinos would rather trust in Japanese promises than in an inadequate American force. But in any case the Philippine Archipelago, like Australia, is already rapidly becoming part of the new Japanese economic Empire. Into both of these places, Japanese trade has made a deep incursion and is gradually dislodging the premier position of others. For one reason or other, the Australian and Filipinos have consciously or unconsciously found it lucrative to buy and handle Japanese products. There is nothing to all intents and purposes, that Japanese merchants now want in these spheres of influence, commercially at any rate, at the moment, that they do not get.

Confine attention, for example, to the Philippines alone; there is every evidence that the natives there are giving their trade to the Japanese traders. The chain of Chinese stores which have established themselves there for centuries are disappearing to give place to the Japanese. The commercial and credit system of the Chinese traders in the Philippines covers virtually every business and reaches from Manila to the remotest regions of the Islands. It is said that three-quarters of the country are in Chinese hands. The Chinese through more than four centuries of ceaseless immigration, have become a great factor in controlling the economic functions of the Islands. They dominate the financing of the rice crops, the lumber trade, many of the handicrafts, having an important stake in automobile transportation and three Chinese steamship companies have been maintaining a regular service between Manila and Amoy. In a word the total Chinese investment in the Philippines is reckoned to be more than a hundred million dollars or about half of the American investment in all of China. Ethnologically speaking, seven hundred and fifty thousand of the most prosperous and influential Filipinos are partly Chinese.

In the event of America giving independence to the Islands, it is quite obvious that Japan would spare no energy to deal a greater death blow to the vast Chinese economic interests and make a determined effort to capture a larger proportion of the trade lying right at her door. It necessarily follows that the Japanese commercial population and business investments will increase in the near future. So far the Filipinos have no innate hatred of Japanese as they have of Chinese, who, in the opinion of the Filipino, have exploited them for centuries.

Thus slowly and almost imperceptibly Japanese forces are engaging in a struggle for physical and spiritual mastery of these Islands. Everything may seem just now to be in the laps of the Gods; and the American withdrawal or non-withdrawal might bring China, Japan, and the United States into "the very vortex of the storm" now brewing in the Pacific Bowl. All depends how the diplomats of these countries steer the ships of the state in these troubled waters. The problem of the Philippines is far from being solved.

SAFETY FOR PEDESTRIANS

But They Must Obey Regulations

London, April 7. A system of safety zones for pedestrians and of preventing street accidents is to be tested in London and plans for the institution of special crossings in the most congested areas of the West End of London, were issued last night by the Transport Minister Mr. Oliver Stanley. Under the new Road Traffic Bill which will be debated on its second reading in the Commons on Tuesday the Minister is taking powers to require the institution of special crossings in the country generally and to make regulations which will provide for an imposition of penalties on pedestrians who walk dangerously. Plans put forward last night are experimental and local authorities in London have been invited to collaborate with the Transport Minister in testing them.—British Wireless

The Court of Inquiry formed to investigate the matter, however, on Friday found that the men voluntarily flew into Manchukuo territory in order to escape from the persecution of the O.G.P.U., the Soviet secret police. If Gossip We Must

By PRUDENCE

Comdr. and Mrs. J. E. Sismore left for Home last week. Comdr. Sismore sailed by the Somersetshire while Mrs. Sismore was a passenger on the P. and O. Ranchi.

Skies on Easter Monday, were rather chill and cheerless, and there is no doubt that the damp weather kept many people from attending the races, for there were very few in the Members Enclosure that afternoon. Those who did attend were rewarded by several spectacular finishes and not a few surprise dividends. Mr. Soares caused quite a sensation when he brought Gay Butterfly up so triumphantly (in spite of a stiff arm and shoulder) and another surprise was caused by the success of Little Beauty which paid a huge "place" dividend. There were only six people on that and I rather think that both Mr. Penn and Mrs. Cassidy were among the lucky ones.

As for the fashions... there was a very strong bias in favour of Checks that afternoon, which were worn in every shade and all dimensions... Mrs. Syme-Thomson was very smart in brown and tan check... Mrs. Smeathers had a neat little black and white check costume... Mrs. Lindsell had a very becoming overcoat of soft blue and gray check while Mrs. Bellamy had a brown and white check coat over her smoke-coloured dress... Mrs. Keith Valentine was very trim and businesslike in brown check, and was with Mrs. Bradley who sported a check tie with her dark coat and skirt while Mrs. George Tinson scored checkmate in a charming costume of royal-blue and white.

ANTI CHECKS!

But there were some very attractive anti-checks too... Mrs. Forbes was charming in leaf-green patterned silk; Miss Priestley looked delightful in chocolate-brown with a peach coloured crepe-de-chine blouse. Miss Heather Kent wore a bright bow-tie with her sober little suit, and Miss Fearon was all in tan, with a red carnation in her buttonhole.

The two pretty faire sisters looked more like twins than ever with brown, beils pulled jauntily over their sunny curls;—Miss Cooper was most alluring in a costume of burnt-umber with an orange waistcoat. Miss Yvonne Shenton was delightful in soft sage-green with a snow white cap and scarf.

Mrs. Dovey wore a touch of scarlet with her black costume. Mrs. Bentley had a vivid scarf with her blue-gray dress, and Mrs. Shellshear looked very nice in autumn-red.

We give Full-Marks to the band on Monday for their cheery and invigorating selections. That old-fashioned melody which included all the prettiest Chu Chin Chow tunes and Hippodrome memories (like "Dixieland, etc.") was as good as sunshine on that gray afternoon. Another feature which deserves special mention was the wonderful display of flowers. I was interested to hear that it is due to Mr. Fred Sutton's efforts that the Jockey Club now save hundreds of dollars by having their own Pan-Wongs and growing their own flowers. The brilliant colours of those massed blooms attracted admiration and attention on all sides.

THE MEDWAY DANCE

H.M.S. Medway celebrated her return to Hong Kong by a most delightful-dance on April 4th and quite half Hong Kong was there to join in the festivities.

The ship was charmingly decorated with flags and gaily backless of dresses had no cause to feel chilly... while a lion extremely rampant (perched on a clever model of Rochester Bridge) smiled beneficently on the revelers. A great many people were on the "gold-standard" on Wednesday night... Mrs. Poland looked most lovely in a dark gown with a top and cartridge shoulder-trills of very pale gold. Miss Shenton looked very slim and supple in a sheath-dress of gold tissue. Mrs. Griffin had a gold sunray-top to her dark red gown and Miss Jean Bird wore a dress of pomegranate-red lined with gold. Red was a very popular colour, too, that night, and was seen in every shade. Miss Rosalie Alabaster was in flame colour. Miss Potter wore geranium-red. Mrs. Adamson was in cherry coloured taffeta and Miss Barbara Hance looked quite captivating in white muslin with huge red spots worn with a red sash and a dainty "pilot-trill" on the shoulders.

Miss Molleson was unusual in turquoise-blue with petal shoulder-straps and Miss Priestley wore a very springlike dress of fresh green and white. There were not many blue dresses that night but I could not help noticing the charming dress of lace with taffeta flounces of shaded blues and grays worn by Mrs. Prior, and the dainty saxe-blue chosen by Mrs. Pringle. Miss Smalley looked delightful in shaded heliotrope georgette. Miss Sutton was in black net and her cousin Miss Stilwell was in white, and both girls looked rather sad at the thought of leaving Hong Kong on the Ranchi the following Saturday.

Mrs. Atkinson looked very sweet all in white satin, and Mrs. Holt wore dark violet velvet. Mrs. Rawlings had a most unusual dress with puffed sleeves of white, spotted with jade-green, and Miss Angus looked most attractive in a white dress, embroidered with heavy lines of black.

Miss Marion Wolfe looked very young and pretty in primrose yellow, Miss Kent was in white, and Miss Lucy Lock wore pale gray coloured lanterns and so well screened by snug awnings that even the wearers of the most and green flowered georgette.

Mrs. Van Wylick looked graceful in black net. Mrs. Jacks wore oyster-gray lace and Miss Varty looked charming in shell pink lace.

Supper was served at midnight and dancing continued afterwards and would probably be going on yet... but the band suddenly broke out into the strains of God Save The King and signs of regret from all the "bright young people" brought to an end one of the nicest dances of the season.

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE BUREAU

To Hold Meeting Next Thursday

FRANCE AGREES TO MAIN MEETING ON MAY 23

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, April 8, 4.30 a.m.)

Paris, April 7. France will support the motion to call a meeting of the Arms Conference Main Committee for May 23, according to an official communiqué which states that assurances to this effect have been given by the Foreign Minister, Barthou in the course of an interview with Mr. Henderson here on Saturday. Following his conversations with Mr. Barthou, Mr. Henderson left for Geneva where the repeatedly postponed meetings of the Arms Conference are now scheduled to open next Tuesday.—Transocean Kuo Min.

DIPLOMATIC CHESS GAME

Paris, April 6. Another move was made on Friday in the long-drawn out diplomatic chess game for the disarmament stakes when a new French Note, replying to the British questions on further elucidation of the French standpoint in the disarmament wrangle, was telegraphed by the French Ambassador in London.

It is understood that the Note stresses the French willingness to enter into negotiations concerning the questions raised by the British Government and that the French Government will, in the course of next week, dispatch a supplementary Note to London which will define the French attitude in regard to the so-called enforcement of guarantees and offer a basis for further negotiations.

According to reliable information, the French Note which will probably be handed to the London Foreign Office on Saturday, declares that the question whether France is willing to sign the convention for the limitation of armaments in participation with Germany and concerning the British "enforcement of guarantees" which is to be determined at a later stage of negotiations is phrased in too great generalities to warrant France's unqualified consent to the proposed convention. The Note insists that France must first know the strength of the effective and the extent of armaments which in England's opinion should be granted to Germany, as well as France's exact military status within the proposed disarmament scheme. For the present, so the Note states, France adheres to the principles adopted by the Arms Conference of the main committee and therefore is unable to accept the suggestions contained in the British Note of January 29, which would practically mean simultaneous disarmament in Germany and disarmament in France. The Note moreover, reminds the British Government that "legalising" of Germany's rearmament would entail corresponding demands for rearmament by other Powers with limited armaments. This argument seems to indicate that France is determined to pay special regard to the interests and apprehensions of her smaller allies. In political circles however some progress has been made by the French acceptance of the British suggestion for the continuance of negotiations.—Transocean Kuo Min.

FRENCH REPLY

London, April 7. The French reply to the latest British enquiries on disarmament has been received at the Foreign Office. It is understood that a brief document containing no definite proposals pending further consideration by the French Government on the question of guarantees. It is stated by Paris correspondents that the result of this further examination will form the subject of a later communication. Meanwhile, further and more present information is sought regarding British proposals.

The Paris correspondent says this should be regarded as a sign that the French Government are now prepared to face momentous decisions that must profoundly influence international relations. The correspondent adds: "It is viewed in that the lines of the reply promised real progress towards achievement of a disarmament convention."

The French Note was subject to preliminary examination by Sir John Simon and his advisers at the Foreign Office this morning.—British Wireless.

A FRIENDLY BATTLE

Paris, April 7. Another French armaments note to Great Britain is expected within a week, proposing that semi-military organisations should be rendered harmless, that French armaments remain at their present level, that observance of the Convention be subjected to strict control and that sanctions, primarily economic, be immediately applied to violators of the Convention.

A friendly battle is expected over the last two proposals. France does not want any loopholes, while Great Britain is averse to rigid obligations.—Reuter.

SIR JOHN AND MR. DAVIS CONFERENCE

London, April 6. The Lord Privy Seal, Captain Anthony Eden, will leave for Geneva on Monday to take part in the meeting of the Bureau of the Disarmament Conference.

Questions regarding guarantees of execution of any Disarmament convention that may be agreed upon, are still the subject of exchanges between the British and the French Governments.

The French views on security were broadly stated in a note recently received in reply to the British memorandum and subsequently, further inquiries arising out of that note were addressed to the Quai D'Orsay.

The reply to these inquiries has now been approved by the French Cabinet Council and it is understood that it will be in the hands of the British Government to-day. Its terms will be carefully studied by the British Ministers before Captain Eden's departure for Geneva.

NO COMMITMENTS BY U.S.A.

Washington, April 8. No official commitments by the United States as regards sanctions against violators in any disarmament convention has been made. According to Mr. Cordell Hull Mr. Norman Davis is still on leave and is not authorised to make any commitments.—Reuter.

BREATHING SPACE REQUIRED

Paris, April 8. The Foreign Minister when speaking to Mr. Henderson mentioned May 23 and not April 23 for convening the General Disarmament Commission. He stated the date May 23 was chosen to provide breathing space while Franco-British conversations on guarantees could continue also to enable Mr. Barthou to consult Poland and the Little Entente, as Titulesco is visiting Paris shortly, while Barthou will visit Warsaw and Prague at the end of the month.

SOVIET AND THE LEAGUE

May Apply For Admission In Sept.

London, April 8. A Geneva telegram says it is reliably stated that Russia will almost certainly apply for admission to the League at the next Assembly meeting in September. It is understood the Soviet insists that all League members recognise her diplomatically and also asks for a declaration of racial equality and a general pact of mutual non-aggression.—Reuter.

CONTENTS OF FRENCH REPLY

Further Discussions Desired

London, April 8. There are hopes the disarmament convention will be revived. By reliable reports the French reply to British expresses her willingness to exchange views with Britain with regard to the feasibility of a convention in which the measure of German rearmament will be recognised, provided such rearmament is limited and its limitations subject to full international control and supervision similar to that imposed on every other signatory.

It is understood the reply welcomes the implication of the British questions that the British Government are now willing to discuss further guarantees of execution. The French Government promises a fuller answer to the British questions soon, but meanwhile it suggests further Franco-British discussion in view of Tuesday's meeting at Geneva.

The immediate effect on the British policy is reported to be that it may now be possible to explore the possibility of a localised European agreement for the stabilisation of armaments within specified limits which will embrace the whole of Europe including Russia, with a possibility of a rider to safeguard Russia's freedom of armaments for Far Eastern use in event of Japan's refusal to sign a relevant treaty in her own case.

Another treaty to which the United States is likely to be a signatory would institute a system of general control and supervision of armaments.

Meanwhile, the German Press suggests that France is merely actuated by tactical considerations, and New York reports indicate the American policy in regard to sanctions is unchanged, namely, she is prepared to join in consultation if peace is threatened, and if there is agreement in regard to a treaty violator the United States will refrain from any action which would tend to defeat collective efforts to restore peace.—Reuter.

UNIQUE FLOOD AT ALESUND

Mountainous Waves Sweep Villages

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, April 8, 7.30 p.m.)

Copenhagen, April 7. A trio of mighty flood-waves which early on Saturday morning spread death and destruction on both sides of the Fjord near Alesund is explained by the latest reports, as a result of a steep mountain suddenly toppling into a narrow bay. Both the towns Tallord and Floraa which faced each other across a narrow stretch of water were swept by three mountainous waves which thundered in to a point half a mile from the shore, tearing homes, boat houses and even stone monuments, loosened from their foundations and grinding them to pieces. In Tallord 22 inhabitants are missing, and in Floraa 17. Due to the extremely tangled state of the still swirling wreckage, rescuers who were forced to make their way slowly about in towing boats have given up all hope of recovering anybody alive.—Transocean Kuo Min.

DROWNED ESTIMATED AT A HUNDRED

Oslo, April 7. The unique flood catastrophe near Alesund was estimated on Saturday to have taken a toll of upwards of 100 lives, in the two villages torn to shreds by the onrush of the floods. Thirty five corpses have already been located in the wreckage of the town of Floraa and 19 in the town of Tallord including the bodies of 20 children and all the members of a family of nine. Fifty more inhabitants of both villages are still missing.—Transocean Kuo Min.

JAPANESE ACTIVITIES IN NORTH CHINA

MILITARY OFFICERS TO INSPECT STRATEGIC CITIES

With Object Of "Getting Acquainted"

Peiping, April 8. While Huang Fu is conferring with Chiang Kai Shek, the Japanese are reported to be becoming most active in North China during the past few days.

According to to-day's Peiping Chronicle over a hundred Japanese military officers arrived at Peiping last week. They were sent by the Tokyo General Staff for the purpose of "getting acquainted" with the principal strategic cities in North China. After conferring with Japanese military officers here, these officers left for Chahar, Suiyuan, Shansi and Southern Hopei. It is additionally reported that South Manchuria Railway Co. has despatched agents to study economic conditions in North China these giving special attention to the Suiyuan Railway at Tating which is the "north gate to Shansi" and Tsingtao "in order to strengthen Japanese influence in North China.—Reuter.

ONLY ECONOMIC PENETRATION

Peiping, April 8. Shidayama left for Shansi to-day, ostensibly on a pleasure trip but is credited in the Chinese Press with the intention of inspecting the railway from Tating to Fuchow. Japanese circles point out the presence of military officers and S.M.R. agents in Shansi is nothing unusual but is given prominence probably on account of formalities there.

Hangfu is believed to have been entrusted with Japan's demands for rail traffic and postal facilities, a rejection of which would create a tense situation in North China.

Chinese Press reports say that Japanese troops in Chahar have been heavily reinforced, but cautious Chinese observers believe the Japanese will refrain from military action owing to her desire to consolidate defensive lines on the three Eastern Provinces, the Great Wall and Chahar against the Russians. Also Japan's chief aim for the moment is economic penetration of North China for which a resumption of rail services and postal facilities are essential.—Reuter.

MALAYA'S MAGNIFICENT INTERPORT WIN

Hong-Kong Out-Played: Visitors' Outstanding Defence

What will probably rank as the greatest achievement in Interport hockey was performed on Saturday afternoon, when the Malayan Interport hockey eleven, defeated the pick of the Colony by four clear goals in a game featured by marked superiority at forward and a magnificent defence, by the visiting side.

Hong Kong were clearly a beaten side from the opening minutes of the second half, due mainly to the magnificent efforts of the Malayan halves, whose spilling was such that Donald and Lal Singh, the respective Colony right and left wingers, were left standing time and again.

C. R. La Brooy at centre half for the visitors was again conspicuous in the manner in which he held Currey and repeatedly broke up visiting movements.

Aladad Khan, Malaya's right half played one of the finest games seen locally and watched Lal Singh very carefully. On the other wing half, Abbas had the Eaden and Doland combination in hand throughout and worked like a trojan.

Undoubtedly the outstanding feature of the Malayan defence was their brilliant interception which time and again left the Colony's attack bewildered.

Rahman at right back was easily head and shoulders above anyone else on the field, his neat clearances and brilliant stick-work, particularly on the reverse-side, evoking the admiration of the spectators.

Perdriau, captain of the visiting side was also conspicuous with some lovely centres, the first of which was responsible for the opening score.

The Malayan inside forwards were much too fast for the Colony defence, and both Phillips and Rodrigues were often left standing. Had it not been for the timely intervention of W. Reed, who again and again came across to his left flank, Malaya would have undoubtedly emerged victors by a much larger margin.

Caleb on the right wing and Perdriau on the left were the pick of the four wingers. This was undoubtedly due to the untiring efforts of their respective half backs, who in addition to wrecking the Hong Kong attack, fed their wingers with lovely passes.

Baharom, Raja Mohammed and Osman were like whiplashed lightning when in motion, and between the three of them were far too good for the Hong Kong halves, in particular Lowe and Hill, the former being too slow in getting the ball away while the latter failed to keep pace with Baharom.

Aeria in Malaya's goal was given but two opportunities and on each occasion dealt safely.

C. O. La Brooy was not as good as on Thursday last but nevertheless outshone either of the Colony backs, his first time clearances were a feature of the game.

The Local Players.

Rodrigues and R. H. Wong were the pick of the Colony side, the former being the best defender, while Wong saved innumerable goals by advancing to meet the opposition forwards when the defence had been beaten. He undoubtedly saved two certain goals by this method while at other times he put up a magnificent front.

Phillips was very poor at left back although one cannot blame him, for his opposing forwards were much faster off the mark than he was and this should have been foreseen by the Colony selectors when they had this position under review.

The general consensus of opinion among hockey enthusiasts is that Phillips let the Colony down very badly, but this is not so for he did his very best under the circumstances and met someone better. One cannot blame him for the Colony's defeat for after all it was no fault of his that he was picked.

Fast Pace.

The game was played at a very fast pace throughout, and stamina told in the second period when the Colony's defence were beaten time and again.

Donald was early conspicuous for Hong Kong, opening up the attack with several fine movements across the right wing and flashing across well-timed centres. These promising movements proved of no avail, however, the smart intercepting by the Malayan full-backs robbing the Colony sharpshooters of all opportunities for scoring. Rahman gave a magnificent exhibition of first-time clearances, displaying amazing accuracy.

Osman then set the Malayan forwards in motion, but Wong relieved a tense situation with a well-timed kick.

Malaya continued to press, and Perdriau repeatedly broke Baharom with perfect passes. It was from one of these passes, that Baharom opened the scoring with a snap goal.

C. O. La Brooy then checked a strong attack by Hong Kong, and in reply sent his forwards away, but Lowe saved the situation by conceding a fruitless corner.

Perdriau was a distinct menace in the Malayan attack, sending across some fine reversed stick centres, but Hong Kong looked dangerous when Lal Singh provided an opening, only for Eaden to sky the ball well over the goalposts.

Hong Kong now began to settle down and maintained a determined attack, but the Malayan defence was very safe, and the Colony defence was soon called on to relieve dangerous situations.

Perdriau broke through from a neat pass from Osman, and in a solo effort in which his spectacular one-handed stick-play was brought into evidence, centred neatly.

Raja Mohammed was well up on the ball, but Wong intercepted during an anxious melee in front of the Colony goalmouth.

The anticipatory play by the Malayan full-backs also proved a big obstacle to the attack.

The Colony defence showed signs of cracking up just before the interval. Lowe was outplayed at centre-half, the lightning like short passing movements indulged in by the visitors' inside forward trio leaving him helpless.

Raja Mohammed broke through with a wonderful burst of speed and was just about to shoot when Wong relieved with a well-timed slide to the forward's feet.

Visitors' Determined Tackling

Hong Kong replied strongly, but both wing players were unable to make any headway, against the dogged tackling of the Malayan half-backs.

Guthwaite was robbed of a golden opportunity by Rahman at right-back, who brought off a fine tackle to clear with a powerful drive. Malaya were attacking when the interval arrived.

Hong Kong showed signs of recovery after the interval, and Currey, after a brief period of mid-field play, sent in the first shot for Hong Kong, but Aeria cleared safely.

Currey again made a good effort on his own, but lost control of the ball, and was only able to make a feeble pass into the goal-mouth.

Malaya Press.

Lal Singh led Hong Kong in several fine movements on the left-wing, but on two occasions his passes were intercepted before they could reach Guthwaite.

Donald, however, on the opposite flank, was well out of the picture, being completely subdued by Abbas.

Baharom placed the issue beyond doubt for Malaya when he broke away with a terrific burst of speed to dribble past Rodrigues and Phillips, and give Wong no chance.

Malaya continued to press and Reed brought off two very fine clearances, coming right across to the left flank on one occasion. The Colony defence again showed signs of collapsing, and Malaya enjoyed the best of the remaining exchanges.

Osman scored the third goal for Malaya on the circle line, the shot, passing Rodrigues and Phillips in turn, Wong, who was unsighted, made an attempt, but failed to stop the ball in time.

Caleb added the fourth goal for Malaya a few seconds before full time. Snapping up a mishit by Hill he raced through Phillips in a solo effort to dribble the ball past Wong to score the most spectacular goal of the match.

The teams were—
Malaya—O. C. Aeria (Singapore); Rahman (Perak) and C. O. La Brooy (Selangor); Aladad Khan (Perak); C. R. La Brooy (Perak) and Abbas (Malacca); Caleb (Singapore); Baharom (Penang); Raja Mohammed (Perak); Osman (Perak) and A. C. C. Perdriau (Singapore) and Captain.

NAVY DEFEAT GUNNERS

In Junior Challenge Shield

Royal Navy defeated the Gunners in the final match of the Junior Challenge Shield played on the Hong Kong F. C. ground yesterday by the only goal scored.

The teams were evenly matched, but the Navy showed the better combination during the first half and well worth the goal they had at the interval.

The latter half found the Gunners to advantage, but they failed through being slow to close in. Mathias had a lot to do in breaking up the raids of the Gunners and West in the pivotal position for the Navy kept his forwards on the move until he collided with Hopkins and for a few minutes was lumping badly.

At the close of the match, Mrs. Fleetwood presented the Challenge Shield to McClurg, captain of the Navy team and the runners-up cup to Hopkins, captain of the Gunners team. Small shields were presented to each player of both teams.

EAST LANCASHIRE REGT. V. ST. JOSEPH'S

Playing in a Division I League match at Sookunpoo, the St. Joseph's F. C. defeated the East Lancashires by two clear goals yesterday.

Ward opened the score shooting in from a pass by Leonard from close range giving Harmsworth no chance. St. Joseph's maintain the pressure and before the interval added to their score through Leonard.

There was no scoring during the second half, although St. Joseph's maintained the pressure until the closing minutes when a final rally by the East Lancashires almost gave them a goal.

Saturday's League Matches

South Wales Borderers kept their position in the race for the championship, by defeating the Gunners at Caroline Hill, while the keen struggle between the Royal Navy and Lincoln Regt. on the Railway ground ended in a draw of two all, and South China defeated the Police at Caroline Hill, by the only goal scored.

The local derby between Hong Kong F. C. and Kowloon F. C. went in favour of the Club (playing at home) by four clear goals.

In Division III the Airmen completed their fixtures with a win over the University, while the R.A. S.C. took full points from the Sappers by the odd goal in three.

LOCAL LADIES HOCKEY

Poor Trial Game Yesterday

The Ladies Rest team who have been selected to meet the Hong Kong Ladies, champions of the Caer Clark Cup next Wednesday afternoon had their first practice together as a team yesterday, when they opposed a selected eleven on the C.H.A. ground at King's Park and were held to a draw.

From the point of view of a trial the teams played the usual "trial" games and showed lack of enthusiasm and were very slow on the ball, presumably due to the previous night's influence.

The Rest's defence was not good and although the ball was cleared effectively at times, the passing and understanding was very poor. In the forward line M. Woolley worked hard but over-eagerness often spoiled her scoring opportunities.

O. Brown and H. Knill were both off colour, the latter being too slow in centring while the former's one and only trick of stopping suddenly failed to work after a few attempts.

J. Wilson who played for the Selected eleven displayed keen anticipation and hit the ball good and hard and to the right person. The following were the teams—Rest—J. Weller (Y. M. C. A. Ladies); F. K. Walker (Central British Association) and M. Basto (Club de Recreo); I. L. Woolley (St. Andrew's Club); E. M. Beavis (Central British Association); H. Knill (Central British School); M. Smith (Central British Association); M. Woolley (St. Andrew's Club); P. E. Gittins (St. Andrew's Club) and O. Brown (Y.M.C.A. Ladies); Reserves: Goal, G. Roza (Recreo); Back, J. Wilson (Y.M.C.A. Ladies); Half-back, J. Wong (St. Andrew's); Forwards, A. Alves (Recreo) and F. Wong (Recreo).

Selected XI—G. Roza; C. Oumund and J. Wilson; L. Xavier, J. Wong and K. Moir; F. Wong, R. Blackmore, C. Silva, A. Alves and M. Remedios.

CLUB DE RECREIO ATHLETIC MEETING

LARGE CROWD WITNESS GOOD RUNNING

J. Ribeiro Carries Off Veteran's Race

Almost perfect running conditions prevailed at the sixth annual Athletic Meeting of the Club de Recreio which was held yesterday at the Club's grounds, King's Park, before a very large gathering.

The running on the whole was up to the mark, although only one record was established, the Ladies' 100 Yards Championship time of 13-1/5 seconds by Miss Cynthia Silva in 1929 was broken by Miss J. Lopes who covered the distance in 12-4/5 seconds, two fifths better than the previous record.

C. d'Almada e Castro again took the 100 and 440 Yards Open Events, covering the former in 10-1/5 secs. which equals the present record, and the latter in 56-3/5 secs. which is a long way off the record he established in 1930.

The St. Joseph's Old Boys' Association carried off the Open Relay after a thrilling duel with the Lincolnshire Regiment and H.M.S. Cornwall.

Mr. Julio Ribeiro who is 48 years of age surprisingly carried off the Veteran's race and although not starting from scratch and conceding some handicap, he ran in traditional manner and deservedly won the event.

A notable performance was that of W. A. Reed in the 100 Yards Consolation Race when he equalled the Club Champion's time of 10-1/5 secs. after a strenuous week-end of hockey.

Among the guests present were the Portuguese Consul General and Mrs. R. G. Alves Guerra, who distributed the prizes at the conclusion, Mons. and Madame B. Ohl, Mr. and Mrs. Leo d'Almada e Castro, Jnr., Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Busto, Mr. Leo d'Almada e Castro, Snr., and Mr. and Mrs. M. d'Almada Remedios.

TOM COLLINS

Oldest Cricket Blue Dead

Mr. Tom Collins, the oldest living cricket Blue, died recently at Newport, Shropshire. He was 93. He played for Cambridge against Oxford at Lord's in 1863. He was an honorary life member of Lord's.

As well as a cricketer, he was a fine shot and a fisherman. He was for many years headmaster of Newport Grammar School.

Six feet tall, Mr. Collins was a round-arm bowler rather than a medium pace. Immediately before his one match for Cambridge he and H. M. Plowden accomplished a big feat in dismissing Surrey for 99. But Collins had a most annoying experience, or, as he himself described it, "most infernal luck."

He had dismissed two of the leading Oxford batsmen when he was no-balled five times in succession on the ground that his hand at the moment of delivery was above his shoulder.

Law 10 at that time forbade the ball being delivered above the shoulder, and the M.C.C. a few weeks before the University match had issued an instruction to umpires to watch particularly the bowler's hand in the last swing of the arm. In the absence of this special instruction, Collins's bowling would, no doubt, have passed muster.

Mr. Collins was born at Warwick, of which town his grandfather was at one time member of Parliament.

Boys' and Girls' (Under 8) 60 Yards Handicap:—1. Alda Marques; 2. Aurea Marques.

Men's 120 Yards Obstacle Race:—1. Leonard Carvalho; 2. J. E. Noronha.

Rolling the Bowls:—1. C. M. Xavier; 2. F. Brito.

100 Yards (Over 40) Veteran's Handicap Race:—1. Julio Ribeiro (48); 2. C. Marques.

One Mile Handicap (Open to Portuguese Community):—1. Ed da Silva; 2. M. Gil; 3. G. Fernandes. Time 5 mins. 29 secs.

Open Relay (1320 Yards, 2 of 220 Yds. and 2 of 440 Yds.):—1. St. Joseph's Old Boys' Assoc.; 2. The Lincolnshire Regiment; 3. H.M.S. Cornwall.

Members' 600 Yards Relay (Teams of 6):—1. G. A. Noronha's Team; 2. C. A. Barretto's Team.

Ladies' Nomination Race (100 Yards):—1. P. N. da Silva nominated by Miss Elsa Soares; 2. E. A. B. Botelho nominated by Miss Alzira Jorge.

Men's 60 Yards Run and Walk Beer Race:—1. C. Rosa Pereira; 2. A. R. Pinha.

Men's 440 Yards Championship:—1. C. d'Almada e Castro; 2. H. Campos. Time 56-3/5 secs.

One Round Walking Competition:—1. Mem Soares; 2. H. A. E. Botelho.

Men's 100 Yards Consolation Race:—1. W. A. Reed; 2. M. Oliveira. Time 10-1/5 secs.

ANTI-BANDIT CAMPAIGN

All Bandit Forts Destroyed

Canton, April 7. As strategic points such as Ching-kong, Pan-kuo Pass have already been recovered, the 3rd Army Corps of the South Route Bandit Suppression Forces of Kwangtung is now planning to initiate a march towards Tsuen-manning, east Kiangsi, which is now still in the hands of the "reds." It is reported that General Li Yang-ching, Commander of the 3rd Army Corps on his inspection tour has been in Tsuen-wu, Tai-tai, Chih-tan, and Shau-piu, for rushing preparations.

It is learned that the Communist-Bandits have removed the bogus Protective Corps from Shue-chin to Tsuenmanning in order to strengthen their defence. But, according to a reliable source of information, this bogus corps has no fighting power.

As is stated in the latest report from headquarters of the Kwangtung air forces in the front, all the forts in the bandits' territory have been destroyed after several days' bombardment, and the number of bandits killed is over 300.—Central Press.

MACAO HOCKEY INTERPORT

Postponed Until To-Day

The Malayan Interport Hockey eleven were very disappointed yesterday morning when it was learned that their trip to Macao was unavoidably postponed owing to the s.s. Sul Tai running foul of some wire which got entangled with the starboard propeller as the ship was leaving the Hong Kong Canton and Macao Steamboat Company's Pier at 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

It appears that H.K. Junk 3524 anchored just astern of the s.s. Sul Tai and dropped her anchor just when about to come alongside the wharf. This resulted in the junk dragging her anchor wire across the s.s. Sul Tai's starboard propeller rendered it useless and the wire wound itself round the propeller was cleared of it's obstacle.

As a result of this incident the Company unfortunately suffered a large pecuniary loss as the vessel was completely booked up by civilians and naval officers who were travelling with the Interports and who are unable to travel to day when the Malayan visitors will visit Macao for their encounter.

The Malayan Interports were consequently, taken round the New Territories yesterday afternoon and spent the rest of the evening sight-seeing.

They leave for Macao at 9 o'clock this morning by the s.s. Sul Tai and will be accompanied by Lt. Da Costa, a former captain of the Macao Hockey Club.

As several of the Malayan team suffered minor injuries in their Interport encounter on Saturday, there is every likelihood that Moray, the reserve half back will be given an opportunity of playing.

The Macao team is as follows:—Almada (goal); J. Rodrigues (right back); M. Cardoso (left back); Lino Ferreira (right half); J. Ferreira (centre-half); A. Aires (left half); F. Nolasco (right wing); L. da Costa (inside right); F. Ramalho (centre-forward); H. Rosario (inside left) and A. Angelo (left wing).

FASTEST BOAT RACE ON RECORD

Cambridge 26 Secs. Under Record

"Well, we have done it again," said the Cambridge president after the boat race recently. "Hard luck, Oxford! They all rowed marvellously well."

"Cambridge rowed magnificently," said the Oxford president, Mr. G. A. Ellison.

They did, indeed, for they finished strong and fresh in the record time of 18 minutes 3 seconds, with Oxford four and a quarter lengths behind, and in distress.

The new time is 26 sec. better than the previous record set up by Oxford in 1911.

11 WINS IN SUCCESSION

Yesterday's was Cambridge's eleventh successive victory. They have now won 45 times to Oxford's 40.

The result was apparent almost from the start. The crews passed the posthouses at Putney almost level, but, at Craven steps Cambridge had a slight lead, and, rowing with more life and vigour, they gradually improved their position.

LIKE A SHOT

Approaching Harpods Oxford spurred, but made little impression on the Light Blues, and when Cambridge answered the spurt their boat went ahead like a shot out of a gun.

Oxford made valiant efforts to the pull up, but Cambridge comfortably held and increased their lead.

CHESS BY TELEPHONE

First Match Of Its Kind In England

A novel inter-county chess match between teams 250 miles apart was played recently. The moves were made by telephone. This is the first time such a match has been played in this country.

It started promptly at four o'clock, the teams being Norfolk (playing at Norwich) and Gloucestershire (playing at Bristol), and was under the auspices of the Southern Counties Chess Union in the championship competition.

By arrangement with the General Post Office an open line was kept throughout the match at a cost of 28.15s.

Each team consisted of twenty players, and the twenty games occupied seven hours. As each

AMENDMENTS TO DIES SILVER BILL

FAVOURABLE COMMITTEE REPORT EXPECTED

1926 Price Levels Must Be Reached

Washington, April 8.
The Dies Silver Bill is likely to be reported on favourably by the Monetary Committee of the Senate on April 9.

According to Senator Thomas the Bill now includes Thomas' amendment providing unlimited purchases of silver by the United States Treasury at world prices and the issuance of silver certificates against bullion thus acquired until commodity prices in the United States reach the 1926 level.

Mr. Thomas declared the Bill will effect the nationalisation of silver as all domestic metal mined in the United States will be called in by the Government as well as that held by speculators and others, which Mr. Thomas estimated between two hundred and three hundred million ounces.—Reuter.

A cable dated March 29 stated: The Dies Bill yesterday passed the House of Representatives by 257 votes to 112.

It now goes to the Senate where its fate is uncertain, because of Mr. Henry Morgenthau's opposition action. At present, sponsors of the Bill, however, predict no difficulty in the Senate.—Reuter.

Speaker Rainey yesterday altered his plans and decided to permit only the Dies Bill to be brought up for voting in the House of Representatives.—Reuter.

A two-thirds majority vote will be required for the passage of the Dies Bill.

Action on the Fiesinger Bill has been postponed at the request of President Roosevelt, who, according to Speaker Rainey, will make an announcement on the silver situation, to-day.—Reuter.

RESTRICTION OF OIL?

Conference May Be Held In London

New York, April 7.
An important oil conference in Europe, with the object of balancing supply and demand, is stated by American newspapers to be the object of the departure, during the past few days, of several prominent oil magnates.

The latest departure is Mr. Walter Clark Teagle, President of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, who professes ignorance of any conference.

Before leaving he declared that he was going to Europe purely for Company reasons.—Reuter.

Berlin, April 7.
At the personal instigation of the Premier, Dr. Goering has warned all authorities and officials against the ill-treatment of all arrested people committed to their charge and exceptionally severe sentences have been meted out to the chief of the Correctional Institution at Steintz, Herr Joachim Hoffman.

The trial lasted several days, the judge taking several public witness and Hoffman was sentenced to 17 years' hard labour for severe treatment inflicted on arrested persons and misuse of his official position. Karl Sales was given a term of five years and sentences ranging from one to three years were passed on others.

The results of these proceedings indicate that the present regime will not tolerate such a state of affairs.—Transocean Kuo Min.

AUSTRIA'S NEW CONSTITUTION

To Be Proclaimed On May 1

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, April 7, 7.30 p.m.)

Vienna, April 7.
It has been decided to proclaim henceforth and celebrate May 1, as the birthday of the new State. Important negotiations took place on Friday with the Heimwehr leader giving his organisation increased influence in the Central Government. In the Provinces as well as in Vienna. It has been decided that Dollfuss' representative, Dr. Stephen, head of the Wehrland Front and the Federal chief of the Heimwehr, Prince Starhemberg will be included in the changes of the Government taking place within the next few days. A vice-Chancellor will be nominated so that the Cabinet will be complete.

At the celebrations on May 1, there will be a revival of the flower coronation at the Prater, originally instituted in Vienna during the reign of Emperor Francis Joseph, by Princess Pauline Metternich and held for the last time in June, 1914.

The Prater celebrations were made famous by Johann Strauss.—Transocean Kuo Min.

GANDHI WRITES "FINIS"

To Civil Disobedience
Campaign

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, April 8, 7.30 p.m.)

Calcutta, April 7.
Gandhi wrote "finis" under the year long "civil disobedience campaign" at the All-India Congress here on Saturday, when he counselled followers henceforth to refrain from these tactics, "So far as free independent India aimed at."

The same methods may still be applied as a protest against individual local measures deemed to be harmful.

Gandhi's motion still requires the formal approval of the Congress committee which will meet here again at the end of April.—Transocean Kuo Min.

GANDHI'S STATEMENT TO THE PRESS.

Patna, April 7.
Mahatma Gandhi urged the abandonment of Civil Disobedience in the course of a statement to the Press, to-day.

"I must advise all Congressmen to suspend civil resistance for the Swaraj as distinguished from specific grievances," he said.

He added that he had decided to be himself, the sole civil resister.

Gandhi's announcement, in conjunction with his approval of the decision of the Congress leaders to contest the forthcoming elections for the Legislative Assembly, and to revive the Swaraj Party for this reason, is interpreted that Gandhi is abandoning his policy of non-co-operation and devoting all his energies to the attainment of the Swaraj.—Reuter.

INSULL'S CLAIM TO BE BRITISH LAWYERS SEEM TO HAVE STRONG CASE

American Extradition
Action Suspended

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, April 8, 4.30 a.m.)

Istanbul, April 7.
Insull's British lawyers appear to have made out such a strong case in their claim that Insull is not an American subject but a British one, and hence not liable to be deported, that the American authorities have decided to take no further steps in the matter of extradition until the Turkish Government succeeds in coming to a definite conclusion on the nationality question.

Meanwhile Insull has demanded the installation of a radio, receiving set. He is taking the situation with a philosophic calm, deriving great amusement from the translation of what the Turkish papers say about him. The mystery about the cash with which he commenced his dramatic flight from Greece now appears to have been cleared up. Shares in certain public United States companies held by Insull were sold to British buyers, the proceeds being forwarded to the financier by his London lawyers.—Transocean Kuo Min.

A LAST BID FOR FREEDOM

Istanbul, April 7.
As a last bid for freedom, the former American utilities magnate, Mr. Samuel Insull, who was arrested here last Sunday for extradition to the United States, is exchanging telegrams with his London lawyer, in the hope of establishing a claim to British nationality and securing the British Government's intervention.—Reuter.

WARRANT FOR ARREST

Washington, April 8.
The United States Government have called a warrant signed by Mr. Roosevelt to the Turkish authorities appointing, Mr. Berry American vice-consul at Istanbul to take custody of Insull. It is expected here Insull will start his journey back to Chicago next week.

BRITAIN'S NEXT BUDGET

Many Benefits Expected

London, April 7.
The prospects of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, producing a popular Budget, with his £31,147,860 surplus, on April 17, are growing in well-informed quarters.

It is understood that the Chancellor again will not make any provision for war debt payments to the United States, leaving a substantial surplus for disposal.

It is generally anticipated that Mr. Chamberlain will reduce the standard rate of income-tax by sixpence and also restore the economy cuts made in 1931.

He is expected to be in a position to restore the unemployment benefit level to where it stood before the financial crisis, and to increase the allowance for dependent children under the Unemployment Bill from two to three shillings weekly.

It is estimated that the two latter concessions will cost over £7,000,000.

The Chancellor may give relief to the entertainment industry by removing the tax on lower-priced seats.—Reuter.

BERLIN SHARE MARKET

Little Business Done

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")

As usual, the week-end business on the sharemarket on Saturday was very small, volume, prices closing at about the same level as on Friday although in some cases they were firmer. The chief interest centred around Dytrusts because the directors expected to declare a higher dividend than last year but the announcement that this will be 7 per cent. as before came too late to effect prices. Fixed interest securities were not greatly in demand, the prices remaining steady.

The week opened buoyantly but depression set in on Wednesday with the publication of the Reichsbank returns, showing that note cover declined to 6.7 per cent., this being a low record with the prospect of a further decline rather than an improvement. Dealers also took profits, accumulated over the last few weeks. The turnover continued small on both markets and business considered unlikely to improve substantially till after the conference in Berlin with foreign creditors in the second half of April, when it will be seen what obligations Germany will have to fulfill for the next half year.—Transocean Kuo Min.

Hong Kong Banks and Stocks were very firm with sales effected at $1830/35 and $975 respectively. The tone of the market at the close remains on the easy side but trading is more brisk. Hong Kong Bank $1830/35. Antamoks 73 cents. Baguio Gold 41 cent. Provident (old) $1.85/1.90. Ewos $912. Hong Kong Hotels $8.85/9.00. Hong Kong Lands $664/664. Hong Kong Realities $8.20. Yamati Ferries $244/25. Star Ferries $98/97.
